

For Immediate Release

Codan to immediately hire thirty new Product Development positions

Las Vegas, Nevada, USA – booth #1857 IWCE 2016, 21 March 2016. Codan Radio Communications, a division of Codan Limited (ASX-CDA), is seeking to immediately fill thirty new engineering positions for its expanding product development initiatives. The new recruiting effort will be focused on RF (Radio Frequency) Engineering and Software Development roles.

The new technical roles will help support new product development growth across Codan's product portfolio, working within a quality assured and agile engineering team.

With offices in the USA, Canada, Australia and UAE, Codan provides an opportunity to be part of a global organization that provides mission critical communication solutions into North America, Africa, Middle East and the Asia Pacific.

Codan engineers will be available to discuss these opportunities at the IWCE 2016 trade show at booth #1857 taking place March 23rd and 24th in Las Vegas, NV.
