We are delighted to announce Anusha Chandra has been chosen as the recipient of the University of South Australia Codan Undergraduate STEM Scholarship for Women for 2024.

This scholarship aims to recognise and encourage talented female students who have a passion for pursuing a career in engineering or information technology. As the recipient of this scholarship, Anusha will receive a financial contribution to support her studies and the opportunity to undertake a paid work placement at Codan. This placement will allow her to gain valuable hands-on experience and further enhance her skills in the field.

Congratulations to Anusha on this achievement. We look forward to welcoming Anusha to Codan in the summer to commence her internship.
