We were honoured to welcome Her Excellency the Honourable Frances Adamson AC, Governor of South Australia, and Mr Rod Bunten to Codan's global headquarters at Mawson Lakes this week.

Her Excellency's visit is part of her ongoing program to connect with South Australian industries and communities, learning first-hand about the innovation and opportunities being created across the State.

We are proud to be a South Australian-founded technology company with a global footprint, exporting to more than 150 countries.

During the visit, the Governor and Mr Bunten met with some of our people and learned of our growth and innovation across communications and detection technology.

This includes:

- Minelab's world-leading metal detectors, and
- Zetron and DTC's critical communications technology, powering mission-critical operations for defence, security and public safety customers worldwide.

We also shared our commitment to innovation and sustainability, including our investments in R&D and environmental initiatives to reduce our carbon footprint.

We thank Her Excellency and Mr Bunten for taking the time to engage with our team and for their strong support in promoting South Australian industry and capabilities both here and abroad.
